

Fees Austrian Emissions Trading Registry Environment Agency Austria 2026

The Environment Agency Austria (Umweltbundesamt) charges a fee for the management of accounts. The chargeable period is the respective calendar year (1.1. to 31.12.). The account fees are annual flat rate fees.

The basis for the calculation of the account fees for operator and aircraft operator holding accounts is the average of the verified emissions of the last three years that are available at the beginning of the chargeable period (1.1.). As the verified emissions for a particular year are not available before 1st April of the following year, the fee does not take into account the verified emissions from the preceding year.

For trading accounts a flat rate fee is charged.

For regulated entity holding accounts and account opening fee is charged.

The fees charged by Umweltbundesamt have to be approved annually by the Austrian Federal Ministry for Agriculture and Forestry, Climate and Environmental Protection, Regions and Water Management. They are applicable for one calendar year. In order to achieve revenue neutrality for the management of the registry during the trading period (as required by section 43 (1) of the Emissions Allowances Act 2011 as amended), the fees for the year 2026 have been adjusted accordingly.
